supercell is raking in about the same with sales of about 106 million or 78.4 million euros last year, according to SoftBank's filing.

The cashiers, mostly the young girls, don't make eye contact, and certainly do not greet you or make conversation.